

Presenting

Ami Boucher

Campus Ambassadors Intern

Ministry Focus

Ami was appointed in June 2017 to serve as a campus intern at Willamette University in Salem, Oregon. She has been involved with Campus Ambassadors since she first started college and after recently graduating, she now feels called to serve on campus.

Ami is excited for the opportunity to reach out to students and feels specifically called to female students, underclassmen and student athletes.

Faith Story

Ami was born and raised in Concord, California where she grew up in a Christian household and accepted Christ when she was eight. Upon entering college, she struggled with her identity as a Christian and with the rigors of school.

Through her involvement with Campus Ambassadors, she discovered her need for a savior and a faith based community. Now, Ami wants to invite other struggling students into the Campus Ambassadors community and introduce them to Christ.

Education

- B.A. in Exercise Science from Willamette University